DOES YOUR DATA TALK TO YOU?

Software for the groundwater monitoring industry—used to import, store, analyze, export, and report environmental information.

“EPIPHINY will lower your data management costs, increase the quality of data analysis, and improve the efficiency of your environmental team.”

From import through reporting, EPIPHINY could be the easiest, most robust .NET application on the market today. Created by scientists and engineers, EPIPHINY has been designed to hook up with your EQUS data platform and convert them for export to your favorite software—or use ours. Save time and money with our intuitive interface and strategic business logic behind the scenes.
